I'm sure having a purpose as great as life held us here. We both have 4Honeth & SHS to ground us, I'm not so sure about you as you won't speak. Before you go to bed, just give yourself a strong reason that matches the extent of consciousness. That's your only groundedness, that's how I knew for sure she was in. Like consciousness tested me to know if I was in.

We had empathy as nature, what connected us, you have what I gave you and have to fill in the rest for yourself, whether you communicate or not, I'll know for sure after tonight's dreams if the cord cutting worked or not on my end.

You don't even know how much space I brought into your small box.. god help you. I could've not tell you this, but I take spirituality serious and won't be carrying the guilt consciousness of not having communicated to you all of this.

I have done my part in saving my lil sister. If she doesn't do her part, that's is on her. Her is you. And I just needed to know how to cut you out of my field and mine away from yours.

Bye.

You can only kill a devil with its own tools, mine is expression, you have to express it, there's no other way.

Well you failed Divine Union. You forgot the content of the document.. It had a choice of direction, as the end. That has to come from communication, it doesn't just happen, and surely not with someone like myself. Divine Union is divine completion, this phase doesn't complete until you phase it. You won't have a chance to navigate the waters of my twin flame, cause the space is covered, anything after that it goes to what my other unions have gone through, plus twin flames demons. You do not want to go there. Love yourself enough to cut this out.

I'm not backing down on my assignment, as it depends on your expressed choice. Either way just say YES or NO. That's the only chord cutting that will work. Expression, or you'll forever channel my energy and it'll be questioned where you get it from, cause you keep speaking about my days events and past. Whether you know it or not.

We need to break this off. As I need my energy back and you need to pay your dues without it, cause I have paid for yours, I know what your next season looks like. Trust not cute and you don't have the skin for it. Again by looking at how you handled me, not an assumption, it's based on facts.

Jessica? And tattoo removal.. I'm not going to say much to that, but I can protect myself in court, they can't handle metaphysics yet, you?! Not sure with me on the other side, yet it might just be the occasion to use this mirror as a claim to investigate if you are truly stalking me. Maybe you are..

And every other reader reading my energy, reads you in it. you need to express and get out and come up with me. I don't care, I need you out of my life, and now that you know, as I have seen what I was trying to communicate, it's up to the ethers.

And my other maybe, has had the same soul battle in sleep with sleep paralysis, yet was able to reawaken and stay. You know what's coming and trust you do not want her crosses, as the switch will have to happen. This is final.

I don't want to have dreams of you, thoughts of you, nothing of you, and the soul will try and bring this back if not completed. You do understand cosmic assignments. If not allow me to school you, I got my condescension back and gave you back your bratty self.

Don't fuck around with forces you don't truly understand woman. This ain't entertainment, this is real spiritual life.

I'm going to send the last 3 emails with a more aligned and fresh look, just in case I ended "mute-mode". This email too is going on my platform if I get no response by 11:12pm, last minute counts.

I always gained attention the moment I asked, because anyone can say " I don't have it right now. " , " Let's speak later " , anything. It's good manners and everyone has the ability to house decency. I didn't need to throw tantrums, I learned that from you. Thanks I guess. If there was something you can take credit for is that and that only, the rest was already me, cause I would've done fine without it too, if it wasn't for the Universe to have taken me here.

I don't waste energy and opportunities, I didn't when it came to myself and I won't when it comes to us all. I'm not going to move to someone else after all that went for this moment to happen. Sorry not Sorry. I know my shit whether you tell me or not. I had admirers, it only showed me how I don't really need admiration and spoken validation, never did. Though I like to be acknowledged and seen for the value I know I bring. Call it validation if you must, I know what it is and I know my attention and attraction comes from someone who can express "me" to me. You haven't qualified. I took what I thought were conversations for the public, and thought it was you speaking to me. Couldn't have been further from the truth, yet you abused it.

Keep showing what you avoided. This time this also has your own behavioural characteristics and responsibilities as a leader. I'm not attracted to this whatsoever. So please don't think this is because I want to date you or else. I can see it was infatuation to your alterego.

This version of you, you keep choosing, is not attractive. It's repellent, but I have thick skin and for God, I'd push on your buttons, while my visibility keeps rising from my youtube. It's inevitable. You get to choose how much people see. As you do care about reputation differently from me. Your protection is my anonymity, but that does not last.

Different from you I have the skill to do any job, and those I qualify for now is 60k+, you think I won't be using those connections and resources to get my own publicity?! Are you mad? And pay for tickets without rest?!

Moving in took less than expected, so I got time on my hands while looking for jobs and infinite amounts of emails I could send. Up to you. I say what I'm gon do, intentional email-stalker hat on this time for real.

It hasn't happen cause God wants it to come from you. I would've if it did through me, instead I get ascension and you get descension until you open lines of communication to plan how this interview, or introduction of mention goes. I told you this before. You thought I was kidding or making shit up? The proof is in the pudding hunny, you should have really read my "blog".

You should check them out if you haven't already.

Have a grateful day

- Susan Ndinga, 07594134546, tell me YOUR PLANS, outside of "Fucking around and finding out" I'm not the one to approach in this way. You got me totally wrong.

Did you use to get attention only when being a brat? I'm sorry for that, but we need to do something about this. Unless it is your chosen role, then the treatment is in alignment with your inner desires. Told who to be, what to do, where to do it, how... this is the only time where defiance takes you away from your character development and acceptance further into it, as I'm not asking you to give me your platform.

I couldn't care less, that's all yours, I'm just telling you how things happened and have told you why this group is special and you're doing them a disservice by keeping me hidden from them. I wish I could say to just them, but in this case it is the actual world.

I'm not going to be there commenting on your posts or watching everything you do, for me to be seen by them, when you are aware and have the ability to introduce me and that's it.

Are you fearing they won't like what you've allowed to me? And fear if they're going to like you even afterwards.. ? Again, consciousness does not have time for that, you can work on those feelings afterwards, as you created the avoidance, no one else. That is your cross, why not be empowered by it and explain why you acted like it in the first place..

I told you everything that was going to happen and you've seen it happen, whether with them and in your personal life. I wrote about Peru's travel itinerary, in March and somehow that's where you went, just like so many other "COINCIDENCES", how many does it take for them to be facts?!

Do you really want to be Judas Iscariot of the story? Cause that's the role you're enacting. I prophesised you that too. As you were all the people I spoke their names, that's why I called them out to you. And still I gave you countless opportunities to change your trajectory, but defied you did. Over and over and over again. What I said in that video has all panned out. Whether you like it or not, it will happen. You get to choose who you want to be in it and through it.

It's okay to be entitled, just be entitled at the highest of standards. Consciousness!. Not your own alone, as it clearly isn't the highest standard. Again, facts not attack.

My sight feels like an attack, yes I made you feel naked with my truths, you could've found out how to make me feel the same by proximity. I walk naked around, cause I don't fear nakedness (we're not talking about physical).

You are abusing your given authority, when you could've used it for so much good.

Imagine if you did introduce me, back in June or even July. By now we would have numbers against the authorities that allow the system to be a default without fault. Imagine that, if it wasn't just me, how much more they would've taken it seriously, especially by people who understand the "5D", yet have not seen anyone embodying fully. Look at what you deprived them of. Do you ever ask yourself that?! I'm starting to doubt, this isn't guilty consciousness, but pure evil and I do not want to think of you as that, you're not making it easy to though. I must say.

Do you want a world that's free for all, or everyone depending on the other. In this case depending on you?! Again, if your foundations and care for them is real you'll see it. No matter when, yet time is of the essence and we do not need to wait for my old birthday for this to happen.

I'm begging you right now, this is not play. Every second that goes by is a person that didn't need to die from all the wars happening, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual. And one might say, it won't save lives in the now me going public.. well it certainly will derail attention, and it'll make up for the compounding of time, meaning the earlier we start the earlier we end these wars. YOU ARE IN THE WAY OF THE WORLD'S SALVATION. Can you handle this pressure, cause I'm living in it. I know you're not, cause you don't behave like it's important.

You can continue with youtube content if that's your destination, the amount of attention you will get, as that seems to be your desire, will come, mixed emotions sure, given the history, but redemption for sure. No one can take that away, but you have to redeem yourself in the eyes of all the gods you backstabbed, as they were there to attend to an event you kept derailing; they're there for an ascension you know you can't give, yet are hindering their opportunity; they're there for a sight for sore eyes, you chose to hide from them. What does that do to their eyes (perception)? Do you think about their lives?! Or just your number?!

If you ever want the role, you gotta step up big time, you qualify simply because the mirror still holds with my own private creations, and you've built relationship with them already, but I wish these type of emails were the ones you'd post about, to give them the chance to choose a leader. Your fear of not being chosen is costing you the crown. Choose yourself, but not at the price of others, unless you have keys to save us all, which you haven't shown proof of.

ACT, not just talk. You talk a lot, but don't do much. Or show how it's done. Either one, just do something! FML, why did it have to be you? I'm still trying to comprehend, trust me. The closest I can come to is that us three represent 3 different skin shades, bro you're not doing justice to yours.

Have a grateful day

Grand rising,

Sorry for the time if received earlier.

This is me trying to make it less awkward, yet it could easily be way past that, but hey.. I'm sorry my expression of thoughts is hurtful, I do understand I am creating a lot of chaos and turmoil.

I have directed attention to investigate with you the synchronicities of my emails to you and your community to see metaphysical proof of alignment without physical interception.

I really hope there will be some form of foundation left, for what could've been a friendship, after this. I hold accountable the most, those who i see the most light and potential. Call it mama-trauma, it worked like wonders for me. Slap and cuddle. I'm not physical like that, but it can still hurt.

Have a grateful day

Watch the Switch, insightful movie and ask yourself.. Who was mirroring what your children needed the most?

That is their chosen parent.
