Dear Steven,

I hope this message finds you well. I am Susan Ndinga Wright, a Meta-Multi-Dimensional Physicist and Founder of 4Honeth. Synchronicities have led me to reach out to you once again – a final opportunity to connect, as my previous communications and shared interests were left ignored, yet now converge at a pivotal moment for the UK and global consciousness. [You can look for The Nomad's Habitat, rebranded to 4Honeth, still under SHS - Human First]

I am writing to share something historic: a Class Action Proposal I have sent to UK authorities, spanning government, security, education, cultural institutions, and finance. This initiative calls for the formal integration of quantum, metaphysical, and consciousness principles into the UK's constitutions, education systems, and governance frameworks.

Many of the concerns and questions you've raised on your platform – about the future of leadership, the ethical use of influence, and the need for systemic evolution – are addressed directly in this proposal. It demonstrates actionable pathways for creating unprecedented prestige, economic influence, and societal progress, while operationalizing consciousness as a core framework for decision-making.

Given your reach, insight, and advocacy for transformative ideas, I wanted to ensure you were aware of this initiative and its urgency. The attached Plan of Action details the steps, structures, and educational and creative hubs that position the UK to become the global hub of metaphysics-informed governance and leadership.

This is not theoretical – it is actionable, legal, and inevitable. I invite you to review the attached proposal and consider the potential for collaboration or amplification, should it align with your vision and platform.

I appreciate your time and attention and am grateful for the synchronicity that has brought this to you once more.

Importantly, all content, creations, and intellectual property I have produced – including blogs, communications, and concepts – are copyrighted under my personal IP. This extends to my existence, vessel, story, and life as a sovereign being. Future initiatives will further extend this principle to those who choose to assert sovereignty under the Births and Deaths Registration Act 1953, challenging outdated legal frameworks. Authorities may either oppose this evolution or partner with me to shape it responsibly.

Sharing any of my work or ideas is strictly limited to those considering genuine collaboration – with individuals or organizations who bring meaningful value to the conversation, not to those acting in defiance of this inevitable evolution. By accepting this communication, you acknowledge:

- That any dissemination of my content, digital footprint, or communications outside of collaborative intent may result in full investigation and attribution to the respective party, as all such information is my IP. And all Networks are tracked and traceable, thanks to the blockchain and more.
