Hi you,

I'm reaching out to say what was at the beginning turned into something else and unfortunately for you, I will use this year's experience as a Spiritual justice example.

It first started as a chance to connect with someone I thought was n the same wave, couldn't be more far from the truth, and then I started considering the possibility of a romantic relationship, all based on what I could see the mirrorings, the interactions and what not, and yet in all of that you were scheming or God knows what, I really don't care at this point and the only ones you will have to explain it to is a court of law, cause I know the inevitability of my life, so I know what's to come here too.

Your silence was probably the thing you hid behind the most and was the same thing that put you in this situation as that's no way to treat a "Earth Angel" like you were saying to extend hospitality to. That's not what hospitality is, but I'm sorry for you if that's what you were taught it to be. Again you had me as a chance to learn more and didn't take it. I was your karma test and I'm sorry to say you failed.

I realised where your dreams called things out in my 3D, I had the only ex I was trying to avoid who's life I was echoing to you. That's the only thing I can say sorry for, though don't need to.

You had the most unconditionally loving person in front of you and ... no worries, whatever could've been suited to the reminder of what I already had. So yeah in the end you did bring me closer to my past, only because you skipped on the opportunity, as you could've been the Omega and rise together.

I truly hope you recon and realise yourself soon before you cause more inderance to others or worse psychosis, without grounding, but hey I know I made an impact as last time I checked you had made integrations you saw me doing, so good job! That was the least you could do... unfortunately your community like the rest of the world will soon see it all as I kept rising as I was always serious about what I was going to do here.

Hope you learn to take people seriously next time, when they you exactly what their mission is and going to do.

Take Care of them please.. The ignorance you keep hovering over them is enough.

Have a grateful day
