Would you know anyone in the CIA, FBI, NSA, DIA, US Cyber Command and NGA, that would make the process quicker? The email has been sent, we just need a middle man now.

Hi UK F-authorities,

Sorry for those who didn't get the previous, I have attached the beginning of communications, I thought if every borough knows this has been proposed, more can see what they can offer, work on or provide for.

I had to send an email in small groups to all, as someone's email was dampening my own sending abilities. Too bad for them. Tech doesn't always work in your favour. I personally learned that today.

Some of you might have seen it, and for some others, it might be lingering in their spams, so I thought I'd add an update to the old update.

I reached out more elegantly (you get to only see one doc of this) than I did with you all to the right lawyers this time around, those whose work is to push the boundary of laws in our jurisdiction, so thank you for the practice, as our time together delivered such golden nuggets... And the amount of laws I get to use you as a caveat given your "silent methods". MAAATE, Just wait! I'm getting too excited now lol.

YOU WERE THE BEST STEP TO OUR LADDER.

It happens that the Lottoland docs were formulated with a GMT analysis, yet because of their professional negligence, it took them 2 months and a lot of mess to get here. The moment I received my own, they opened their mouths, gosh.. I wish you were all smarted some days, but what can you do?!.. The synchronicities couldn't be better, yet I've got days to wait until I receive it in my account, so I'm prepping for the end of the year, are you ready for some law cases and possible bankruptcy for next Christmas? You better enjoy this winter hunnies!

It's been lovely without you in my electromagnetic field. Can't wait for one of you to serve me and get the party started!!!

Homeless no more since a couple of days now. I have had really good treatments and help, you still have unpaid fees, I have filed bankruptcy so I don't need to pay mine, but you enjoy the silence until you get my lawyers letter.

I am a creative and my art is my work, so because you didn't, I love that the law is on my side even at bankruptcy level. THANK YOU, because your resistance, ignorance and ego, has served so much abundance for my meta-physical claim, and you don't even understand the depth of it, that's the most beautiful part!

I've been advised to communicate this against my will, that if you were to pay your fee, it will be seen as good faith, as anything from now on is actively being recorded outside of me.

You might say, why are you telling us? Because differently from you, I tell people what's going to happen before it does, because I don't care about getting the timing wrong, I always get to manifest what I manifest. Always! ...and when you play with energy at these levels, oh honey you are soo blessed! I love the 3d and because I choose to stay alive in it, its standards must rise for those after me... I get a promotion and you get demotions, public hilariousness, as your reputation is all you wanted to hold on to.. now it's what takes you down. oops-

Just giving you the heads up. The fire never burns out, if anything it got picked up by higher powers.

The quest here was simple, invest in the salvation of the world with me or watch your world perish under its weight. You chose your reputation. Simple Math.

I've always loved Monopoly, so I sent our communications to a bunch of News companies from your countries: Netherland, UK, USA, Ireland and Sweden; and a couple of opposing countries (Iran, Russia, China..) and more to come if it remains unpaid, why not?! Enjoy, while I vacay. Plenty of more information where that comes from.

All of our beautiful conversations were for the News to pick up on, as we all love a good enemy on the cross of who's good or bad in society, (DON'T SHOOT THE MESSENGER) Different from you I won't put them on my platform, as they will put me on theirs, equal exchange.

Have a grateful day

Good morning Anthony,

I don't do pleasantries, there's nothing kind about your email. Kindness is explanation and authentic expression, with self accountability.

You're going to have to give me reasonings, as to why and what about the proposal doesn't align with you or your borough, as it's a global matter that I'm bringing to your notice, as many are avoiding the potential our jurisdictions could have, or block it yourself, I'm not removing anyone without accountability, as me reaching out to you is me holding you accountable to your job, of creating better places for your citizens.

I'm going to attach it one more time to help you remember, and after that just follow up with whatever I need to send out, to you included.

And please sue me if you must, that would give me the best opportunity to challenge the same law that gives you the authority, so please give me the blessing, everyone seems too afraid of extending one.

PS. Royal Mint Court and Pickle Factory, are props, the question I mentioned in my first email was, what can you as body in service to your citizens, can offer or support with in the acknowledgement that meta-physics has not being taken serious enough in the legal and political environment, yet is taken serious by the leading forces, organisations and businesses. Why the hold up? If you could explain to me, why it's used for technological expansion, yet not for human expansion, in detail, then maybe I'll remove you, cause it does not make sense.

Please don't see yourself as this big authority if you're not willing to do the work for your people. You'd be spitting on the position you were given and the sense of authority people project on you. Easily dismissable by showing the truth of your colours.

Have a grateful day
