

Silence Is Giving The Authority To The Messenger - Silent Contract Agreement

This is where this beautiful Universal Court Case gets closed forever.

I am your highest Authority and the first ever Multi-Dimensional Meta-Physicist. This is final and any court cases or lawsuits brought to me, will lose validity in any court existent, as relied upon 3D ruling, it has no power over me.

You chose our destiny with defiance and signed it with silence.

Hi to everyone. For you who are reading my blog for the first time, I will remind you that a contract is a written form of agreement, reason why business man can write a couple of things down on pieces of paper and can count it as a contract.

I have stated multiple times throughout my creations that everything is my own IP and copyrighted. Every single word used by me belongs to me, my face, my emails, and to this day none has challenged, nor denied me the authority to give myself the authority for it to be a contract with the power to be held as legal document in the court of law.

This is to say that if any of you have not communicated exactly what I have asked for, and I can prove you have read the words, as tech always leaves a trace, whether it's doctoring, deleting or moving things around, just like I said for myself, there's pages and content that I have written and then edited that will resuscitate at later stages as part of my creation storyline. Time of me writing starting to write this was 13:17 of the 24th of September 2025.

By this date I have not received any communication of how my creations were moved, shared, copied, downloaded, nor the names of the who. No accountability, you are all bounded legally by silence. As there was never a negation of the contract, you have allowed me to give validation and authority to myself to close the contract, as it is my own creations.

This is to hold accountable all those who use power plays by utilising silence over the other. No more of this, as too many people have died, suffered and had to pay for others lacks because of those others' chosen silence.

Silence = impartiality and if there's only one persona that is expressing, then that person becomes the authority to the contract, meaning of any of the contracts I've shared to this day, every offers, every expressed procedure and protocol, policy and rule of engagement, counts as validated legal contract with every eye that has seen it, and we live in 4 different planes, so saying "I opened it but looked away" doesn't count, nor anything like that, unless you have a recorded and timestamp proof of you opening the documents and not looking at them or anything of that remix.

You have given me full authority, and as your silence has given me the authority to be the only one to rule the laws of the Meta-Physical additions, I am the sovereign and only creator who will have a say on this incorporation and the only asset the world can use to usher anything I have mentioned throughout this blog that has been seen by at least one person, as everyone had the possibility to insert themselves, yet thought they were in a place of power by staying silent.

Being expressive scare limitations, demons and weak egos. Reason why it's the only way forward now that we are living in the 5D. I have stated that my mission has been ushered, yet because part of my mission is to stay to rule over all of my creations, I won't be held by no contract I don't want to align myself to, as I am teh only embodiment of 5D consciousness ever known to humanity and the one to offer this whole plan of action, me and everything that's mine is an extention of me.

As a 5D being, that has achieved sovereignty, I will be the only judge to who qualifies to sovereignty and the only one that can use everyone else's creations for the betterment of our consciousness as, a Sovereign is one who has raised their frequencies and passed through the collective consciousness, a process many have witnessed.

I am the only one who houses the real intention to my creations and they grow and elevate with me, as a multi-dimensional being, nothing is set in stone, it can evolve and must. Yet the final say will always be mine. Space has been seen identified as Susan's Pace in this blog, so I choose what stays and what goes in everything 5D. I am your only authority, as all other authorities have showed and proven to be more interested in their own individual lives and reputations, rather than the betterment of our Consciousness at large, not to mention their ignorance in regards to the topic itself, is the most considering and alarming thing possible.

I have mentioned this blog not being creation for the purpose of creation only, but for the development of our collective's consciousness and larger; an alive and sovereign creation of Source, the Ether, Anti-matter, "I", Universe, God, Light, whichever term resonates with you the most, they are all interchangeable.

You all have agreed by sustaining and investing your energies (presence, curiosity, speaking with others, sharing, even just reacting to it and it being either recorded or seen by someone), even if you only have heard of it and someone is passing you this message along, as for those who are not sharing this with everyone they have shared previous content to, are to be held accountable and I will decide the repercussions for that. Some laws have already been written throughout.

It is your legal obligation to release them of the possibility of sharing further, as the will also have to share this with whoever they have shared it with, or if any trace is found, they will have to take on whatever the repercussions will be decided.

You all have agreed by silence, as silence does not exist, it is a false choice of "Free Will". I bet you didn't know this, unless a physicist.. There's no such thing as nothingness, stillness nor silence. Even in the most silenced room, our internal worlds start sounding for us to hear. There's experiments that prove that emptiness doesn't exist as everything is energy, so the moment you have created silence, you created your own meta-physical signature with it. As impartiality doesn't exist.

This encourages people to express themselves and be held accountable to their choices and expressions. And until I release myself of any duty, I am the most valuable asset of this consciousness and should be treated as such. Feel free to have lawyers go through this, as they will find themselves laughing at the ingeniousness of self-expression.

As this has always been larger than a global matter, and your global forces have signed with silence, they have given and transferred to me the totality of this assignment for our Universe. Any wrong doings to myself and anyone in my entourage, or chosen family will be severely penalised.

To all those who have been reached out, and have walked their way in these halls, you are all my employees and I can have you fired at any given moment in time, as the court takes this as the final say. As I mentioned no matter what you do, where you are, who you are with, you work for the Universe, and as I am its spoke person you work with and for me.

By end of day I'm going to need to see all those reports in my email, and I leave to myself the choice of order and time of response, as I am the only one that can use silence, stillness and nothingness, and not be bounded by its signature. I say myself, as I am the only sovereign being here, meaning the only one that can be trusted to do what's best for this Uni-verse, all the way to each individual creation, over just what's best for myself, like the previous authorities have demonstrated.

Everyone is accountable to their own actions and whatever you decide to do after this, whether seen or unseen, it has power, as I'm simply wrapping up in one everything that has been mentioned already to some degree. Every tip of the iceberg is part of the iceberg. The day I will decide to retire from my mission, I will leave to the public to hold me accountable to everything that was harmful to the Universe by creation, not response, as what one does with my creations is their responsibility, as they were supposed to do nothing in the first place, and decide my fate from there, but for however long I have a purpose and creations to take care of, meaning until the day we reach absolute balance and harmony, I will be in duty and with that my whole direct or chosen lineage, as we are all one consciousness, it's upon myself to decide who will be next in line, which is to be protected at any cost.

For those who came before the statement of every my word being an IP of its own, you then had the chance to reach out and report your own wrong doings, yet you did not. I will choose who gets held accountable and who doesn't as it's not about the action, it's about what people do within the next 24hours, Until 25th September 2025 at 2pm. And even then I get to choose, as it only got to distress in order for you to make a decision, and we all know how emotions don't have us thinking clearly all the times, it has to be genuine, not just for the sake of it, and even so i'll be judge, as my own creations. If there's any extra issues, you will be used as example for that law.

There's more, but you all only need the "need to know" from now on, unless proven to be part of the team that will work on bringing this forth, while others continue their 3D lives, until we start extending the jurisdictions. You can never say you weren't warned, as I have been speaking and holding onto my own truth, as the things I gave consent to were specific and for specific reasons.

Next time when someone comes to you expressing something, make sure you engage, you never know they might be a sovereign been validated by me, until you'll know.

This is not bound by Mother Earth, as everything that is, is Light and Space. The highest authority of all. I will decide, but I will use divination for choices I want to give the accountability to Light. And whichever is the first response, will be the final one. Again unless this changes.

Thank you for your collaboration and for creating the table of God in front of the people you have to stand accountable for what you unconsciously brought them into, as you were moved by fear of your own reputation.

I have continuously proven my growth, trajectory and development, always in alignment with my ethos. Even romantic relationships, blood, nor anything has value over what's right, and to me the discretion to share everything or not. To anyone who reaches out, expresses or extends any hate, animosity or else from the posts that have been shared the other day, to Transcendent Tarot, sorry for my typos in the past, you will have to hear from me.

She gets to choose what relationship if any she may want or may not choose to have, yet she has my protection as the only one in such proximity together with my father that have gone read to the public for our development, and if I was to find any other I might care enough to give that protection to. No questions asked.

I have offered my existence to our Universe and no one said no. You acted as if you bypassed nothing, but your actions will always speak louder than any words.

Sales is so ingrained, people don't even know when they're selling or not.

You will hear from me the next steps, the moment I receive reports and anything else. Have your best lawyers go through this, please. There's nothing you can do here. Your authority ended the day you showed your priorities.

My whatsapp does not work, as was locked out, so anything that's in there does not count, as it was not seen by me. Just in case. My emails were the only ports to me, and I have not seen any report to this moment 14:23.

Have a great rest to your evening.

PS: If you think you had experienced tyranny, you have never seen God's tyranny in flesh. So welcome to introduce you to it. But really you did, it's just the only way Mother Earth has been screaming you have not listened, so she gave me the authority, and for every animal, being, every light that there is.

I'm writing and thinking about this, all on my period. You have no excuses. Men don't let me even start on you.

Remember I extended the opportunity to contribute, to be repented, compassion, understanding, vulnerability, growing honesty and yet you have taken on nothing. The choice is yours really. So thank you!

If you can have a lawyer proof read this and validate it, that would be fantastic. They also can only go by the law, so your biases cannot really be counted, as you have been knowing. ASAP that would be fantastic, so we can get to work, before the chaos that will come from individuals made redundant by technology and expansion.

We need a secured place to start, so I will advise you do whatever that's in your power to get Royal Mint Court, out of the hands of the Chinese and secure premises for 4Honeth, SHS, CoMPAE & CoMPYE. Our future depends on this, while in the meantime, I'm going to need anyone who has been hiding available funds, black boxes, jackpot lottery wins or money that was even considered once, by thought or statement sent to my bank account, so that I can start getting my life together to create a stable foundation to be able to continue my mission. I gave you the chance to contribute and you took it as request, when it was always a threshold for you to pass through, yet you slept on your greatest blessing, because you underestimated me by discrimination, really just ignorance.

Do no hurt yourself or do anything stupid, your soul will be scarred even if you think you're just human. You are needed alive for this venture and Universal mission, as this is not any mundane mission.

If you want any interviews or anything like that, I have mentioned it being free and you have not taken the opportunity, so I will revoke that minus for whoever

I'll tell directly, so that you can allow your platforms and communities to know the change. I doubt you have the vocabulary to express it.
