IF YOU'RE FEELING COURAGEOUS AND BRAVE, your pals below you have already failed at keeping it contained and got miserably embarrassed publicly, what are you going to do?

This is what's next in the Treasure Hunt!

And Deeper:

Read the whole thing first and then choose your path, through the different windows into old posts, no matter how bad the temptation to open them sooner. What you can do is open them in separate tabs and go back to them once finished, alternatively read it all and then choose one path only to follow to your own Remembering.

I ask myself the same question.. " Why have they allowed all of this to happen for months on months..? " No one there to protect the crown unfortunately.. this is the devotion they have. Too bad everyone is fending for their own selves, try better teams next time!

Could you pass the message to Charles or his son, their time over. We are just witnessing the unfolding of their end now.
