Payment should be made immediately. Please reply to this email attaching the payment confirmation or send the receipt directly to my email.

Failure to make payment may result in:

- Formal court proceedings to recover the unpaid amount and associated costs;
- Disclosure requests to relevant third parties to identify the accessing party;
- Preservation and use of all evidence, including server logs, blockchain records, and email headers, in support of any claim.

This reminder does not waive any other rights or remedies, which are expressly reserved.

Yours faithfully,
Susan Ndinga Wright

Good morning, Rise n Shine too!

Sky's looking beautiful and I was escorted yesterday just not to the police, perfect immortalised scene for this movie/tv series I'm building on the go and that inspired me, I'm going to give myself in, so hopefully you all have nothing to hide! I know I don't. I'm prepping the paperwork and all of our conversations to be delivered at 1pm.

Have a beautiful day, yet you can prevent this if you don't want your skeletons to be uncovered during investigations. I extended the same grace to Lottoland once, yet nothing.

PS: forgot this confession. I had written the results of that scratchcard before I actually scratched, I thought the universe wanted to end it there, but nope. Until I get paid somehow the plot will continue, as I follow the Universal Laws, I won't quit. God is my employer until the equivalent on this Earth hires me.

This was quite long and with videos and all... Here I mention a night I threw someone's court summon documents away, it was in the letter box of what I was eyeing as home to buy if Lottoland had come through in time. 1 Edith Cavell Way. They have cameras, and I interacted with 2 individuals of which one was walking his dog.

We're even. You have something for your laws, I have something for my laws. Either way the universe is going one way, so that one is really if I'm not able to install them in this lifetime, you can have something to take me down, that's my illegalest thing, other than smoking weed, having grown once mushrooms, I've got pictures, and contemplated selling though finished them myself, yet the brand is up, so that's conspiracy at best. Actually not. I once travelled on a school trip from Italy to Portugal with weed.. I'll let you know if there's more

I Don't Want Followers – I Want Accountability

(The Chronicles of Boundaries and 4Honeth)

This is using humanly/3D unlawful things for Consciousness expansion.

People assume that when someone speaks loudly, writes boldly, or builds new systems, they want followers. They assume the point is influence. Let me be clear: I don't want followers.

I don't want people copying my ways or idolising my path. In fact, I am deliberately allowing myself to be the most hated, the most annoying, the most "difficult" person in the room — because someone has to take the blowback of bringing these meta-physical laws into the open. Someone has to build the boundaries so that when this knowledge inevitably spreads, it cannot be weaponised. And I'm only holding accountable the already guilty, what happens when a heartless uses the same for profit? Like some of them have or worst to bypass murder, to bypass physical rape, to bypass heists...

Even as I write these words, I can feel it: there will be people who won't use this knowledge for good. Not everyone is like me. Others will use 5D consciousness to kill, molest, abuse, steal, manipulate, and profit. They will build a life out of it. That's reality. They already live that life, we're trying to show them there's a better way before they have they gain the knowledge getting spread fastly already Imagine me opening the first-ever 4Honeth — a sanctuary for the homeless, a space for the disenfranchised to access higher knowledge. How can we ensure those who enter don't go back to the streets doing the most destructive things with the tools we gave them? Cause really we nurtured their survival mode, so they will do what needs to be done, no matter what and if you give them the immunity of meta-physical knowledge... How do we hold the individual accountable within the whole, while still offering the best foundation possible?

For far too long, the spiritual world has hidden behind exclusivity and secrecy, afraid that what we share might be used against us. But hiding isn't the answer. Cancel culture isn't the answer either. Cancel culture is one of the most ludicrous and ignorant reflexes we've created — a band-aid over a deep wound of accountability.

So no, I want no one to follow me. But if my sharing creates a path, if my stating the truth gives someone else the courage to follow, then I will also protect them as a meta-physical barrister. Together we can hold individuals and systems accountable. You may be found guilty in 3D courts, but with me you won't lose in the higher laws — because meta-physical law outruns the loopholes of manmade justice.

This is not about being "the greatest lawyer of all.", though it sounds fun! It's about creating a legal and energetic infrastructure so strong that no one can exploit this knowledge without facing the consequences. It's about becoming a kind of Robin Hood of criminality — not to glorify crime, but to invert negligence, to balance the scales where imbalance has been allowed to fester for generations.

My goal is not to simply “balance” the scale here. My goal is to bring justice. My goal is to establish systems so strong that balance preserves itself. This is how we protect the future while nurturing its seeds — even if it means being misunderstood, disliked, or resisted now.

Because true leadership isn't about being adored. It's about building foundations that keep everyone — including you, including me — accountable.

That's it. It would be £2025 in total. Nothing more, nothing less. We go our separate ways, I build me and one day bring you in as consultants for the same laws I have indicted you. I don't need to take you down, but I will if you allow me so.

Let's go people, don't make me wait no more. You were all guilty before you met me, I'm just the first one to admit it and hold you accountable.

If the 43 don't pay, consider this ethereal court summoning a physical one, as I already have the right opportunity for it.

If I don't go to TravelLodge, I'm sleeping at mcdonalds, on the couches not the toilet dummy... and as they'll probably complain I'll simply ask them to call the police, I won't call and am not walking to them, not for them.. I'm getting escorted in the heath of their backseat. The complaint starts with Mcdonalds, who I had a chat with the manager this morning about their poor human rights, so I already have testimonies and an opportunity to flip things around stating to the police I went back there, because you failed, and that's a bridge of Gold for me.

Either way thank you in advance. I wish MI5&MI6 had an email and could've witnessed all of this live. I might have gotten hired directly.. I'll hold it for the plot. as I can send them all the email yeaahh!

This is why Meta-Physics needs to be included.

I know you won't serve me, I've already won, because you can't outwin this.

Are you listening?! Are you going to find me a lawyer that can get the job done or should I keep haunting you? Or just provide the resources or finances, as you're not willing to do it, not capable.

The Comeback as a Slapback: Consciousness Rights and the Slingshot Era

Open Air Court: lighter energy, which means, it travels faster than dense energy, which means it has more impact then taking someone to physical court, as incriminating them in our open air court, which adds energy to space informing matter about who needs Karma served.

$M = Lv$

No matter how that appears in their lives, that's their responsibility now, as they've actively, repeatedly and reinforced to only be responsible for self over the collective consciousness.

I was never going to kill myself, I killed a perception of myself and gained a newer one. Immortality at its best.

If meta-physics isn't included, 5D people will live knowing that if they're taken to court they'll win, that is a dangerous power to have, cause what stops you from keep going, knowing there's nothing other than death that can stop you?! And even in that your consciousness will know you're the winner, as you would've gotten someone to admit loss in the only way they felt empowered by.

Those who feared for their reputation the most finally gave something. We don't share names, but we'll always know for ourselves. That's the thing about truth—it doesn't need an audience, only a witness.

And while some were busy hoarding polished images, draining the living essence out of others, a deeper game was playing out. Every time they sat back and watched people beg, unravel, or lose their minds just to be seen, just to be heard, the slingshot was pulled back further. Every injustice tightened the string.

Now it releases.

This isn't just about me, or even about a courtroom victory—it's about the dawn of meta-physics in the legal system. Too many in this country live heartless: multiple homes collecting dust, while countless people sleep outside, fending for themselves. Not on my watch.

This is the slingshot that shifts the ground rules. From human rights, which have been diluted into lip service, to consciousness rights—a higher standard, because we are not just humans. We are fragments of the same consciousness experiencing itself, and every action is an act upon the whole. To forget this is to forget responsibility itself.

No one is successful until we are all successful. That's the principle. That's the future.

So here's the experiment in real time: To partner with another homeless person. I bring the numbers; she brings the money. Together we decide to play, to risk winning £50 million pounds—or let it slip away as just another lost opportunity.

That's the crossroads: play together, or stay divided. Let's see what she says..

19:19 She passed on the offer. And a group of guys to whom I had just asked for a cigarette asked for my name, as I greeted them away. I replied "It's Susan", and he goes "what does it mean?" and it took me a second, but then I remembered "It means purity".

They ignited the very thing that my name is the embodiment of, catching me out of the Dead Sea of the folks we left behind, reinforcing it even more in the collective consciousness. Right there I could've gone on the Impulse Factors and taken advantage of the moment.. I could've asked them for money, they seemed quite well put, but they weren't the ones on a cross, they were the 3 Magis who came to usher Christ. The 3 stars following Sirius A in the sky, not realising she was already housing a Sirius B.

I didn't check if they had sent money, but in good faith I chose to try and play blind-sightedly. Let's see what checking out shows.. leaving the laptop behind, the 100s of camera catching every split movement and individual interacted with, literally building the scenes to my ascension.

If nothing goes, we have our win here in the digital, because when chaos goes loose purity brings it back into perspective and finds a way to still win. So we fight and take them all down if must. Ok 19:23 let's go! Will they be redeemed or guilty of murder by silence?! tan, tan, taaan.

19:33 They did not, the ticket had gone through, just in time 7:30pm, but they didn't and space allowed it to happen by bringing someone next to me to whom I asked if he wanted to split it, and he declined too. Space wanted them to end up on the cross, or there would've been someone who said yeah sure, or even paid for it £2.5...

Everyone had a win today though, minus them. I was just blessed to be the hands that carried the collective consciousness' one. And hopefully the list below serves to trigger someone to pay their dues and chip an offense off their back, so I can get a well earned Travelodge room, and maybe show some decency and integrity left.

They could've released themselves from this predicament, any one of them, yet they chose not to invest in their redemption, the very last opportunity they had in their hands, as my individual win would've meant I get to partake in my own projects without them, I would've had other things to focus on and forget about them, but instead they summoned me further.

They wanted to be guilty as they knew themselves to be guilty. Consciousness never lies.

And so I rise, stronger than ever, with a stronger skin, with a bigger purpose and 79 people implicated, for a couple of things. So let's list them out for them to see what their future awaits, from 3D to 10D:

- Injunction
- Conflict of Laws
- IP Breaches
- Breach of Contract
- Copyrights Infringement
- Professional Negligence
- Singling despite Wholeness / Classism
- Consciousness Negligence
- Refusal of Collective Reappropriation
- Leadership Redundancy
- Conditional Love
- Avoidance to Truth
- Investment in Disharmony
- Dependence on Policies over Consciousness
- Spiritual Bypassing
- Segregation
- Refusal to Integrate Expansion
- Third Degree Murder
- Suicide Bypassing (19:55 - Completion in Reflected truth)

And 43 people

still have to pay for their fine of £51.92

Immediate demand for reappropriation payment

You are required to pay £51.92 as a fine (this fine will grow to £2M in court per person, per post opened) to the bank account below so that the payment is received by 11:11pm on 26 September 2025:

Account name: Susan Ndinga
IBAN: GB95REVO00997084248977
BIC: REVOGB21
Sort code: 04-00-75
Account number: 24844586

Please use your full name and the reference [OWO LTC] when making payment. Once payment has been made, please reply to this email attaching the payment confirmation or send directly to my email. This is the only list of names held private.

And so with our last email we gained the Trojan Horse that solidified even more the character of those individuals, we call leaders.

After all they observed, they didn't care enough for the collective consciousness, and when offered reappropriation, they still chose the ego. Still chose silence, still chose Neglect. They still chose their own self-preservation, the one thing they have much to spare, against one, who by their 3D perspective, already has close to none, unless of course they were to admit to 5D ways.

My bets: It was going to be a lottery win and their redemption, or a lottery and homeless redemption, or a collective effort for the collective, even if it ended up with a loss.

Because success in this era will not belong to individuals. It will belong to the collective.

Dear All,

I couldn't have said I sent it to everyone if you didn't receive it too.

You've taken my time, my mind, my blueprints, my visions, and the soul behind the symbols. You extracted until there was nothing left to give back, and still you held out your hands.

So let me ask you plainly: will you at least cover the exit?
Either £4.05 for the ticket, or finance my euthanasia the way you financed my exhaustion. Bankroll my silence the way you bankrolled my exploitation & profited from my own work? From the Senior Clerks to Transcendent Tarot..

Or would you like even my death to have to be on me too?

Congratulations — you've already won. This is just me asking whether you'll own what you've done and what you wished for after all.
